ROOMMATE WANTED FOR WBC?

My usual roomie, Paul Saunders, for WBC (Reference 1) moved back to Mississippi from northern Virginia last month -- just days after I reserved our room at the Hunt Valley Inn, site of the Con. He's also changed his e-mail address, so I can only assume the worst. Ms Nar doesn't want to make the trip if she can't visit with Lisa Saunders. Former roomies Dan Farrow and Mark Fruch can't make it. So I'll likely be looking for someone to share the room (half of $104 or so/night which includes $30/day food vouchers). Hurry, apply soonest as WBC is but seven weeks away.

Be aware that this issue was compiled "in exile" as it were, without access to the game rules, maps, charts, etc. So mistakes are very likely. Check the results closely. There will, for now, only be the e-copy going out. Hard copies will be included in the mailing of the July issue. The sole player without e-mail, Mr Nichols, will be getting reports for the four games he's in by a snail mail.

IMMEDIATE GAME OPENINGS:

DIPLOMACY: Have Boyum, Fryling and Nichols confirmed, Curtis left.

DUNE: The BGs are available. Their prediction will stand.

Gunboat MACH: Have three signed up.

HISTORY OF THE WORLD: New game, either edition. Zieske signed up.

BORIS'S BULLETIN BOARD

THOUGHT FOR THE MONTH: "Play with your ideas. Thinking should be fun" -- Harald R. McAlindon

New addresses for Kerry Watson and Kevin Wilson. See p.15 for details. Peter Boyum too, methinks

BOOS & KUDOS

The Madame Bolduc Press Excellence Award (and free issue) this month goes to Jack Shacklett for his article in "Boris XVII".

This month's Ms Nar Super-Sudsy Bomb is lobbed at Kevin Wilson for an uncharacteristic delay of three games.

Of the Age of Flight

Fall 1903

MINAS MORGUL: Lord Shacklett must not be fully recovered from the assassination attempt since his illegal orders allowed LPL to be sacked by the French. And while Sultan Ali Cary still controls Anatolia, it's only because the Austrians expected Teas David to divert A CON's attention. Russia and Turkey, both beleaguering for survival, are unlikely antagonists at this point. A modicum of Austro-British cooperation (in 1904??) Who'd've thunk it?) could still but finish the Teas and the Sultan would soon fall to Italy. Meanwhile, Germany heads both west and north, positioning the Kaiser to be either his English cousins' boon or bane.

BORIS WORLD PRESS REVIEW

London Times: Lord Admiral Jack is swiftly recovering from the stab wound from the French. The French have declined to deny or confirm the stab but events speak for themselves and the British Empire is vowing revenge for the invasion of Wales. Whitehall can not understand why the French would pick Wales for an invasion as it is not the season for strawberries, clotted cream, and scones. To thwart the invasion the rugby teams and rugby fans have been sent to Wales as they strike fear in most of Europe.
